

The Cooking with Empathy Experience

The Cooking with Empathy Experience helps participants unlock the power of deep insights and develop empathy as a leadership capability.

This rich experiential session combines simple frameworks and practical activity to improve skills critical to understand and connect with stakeholders, peers, employees and customers.

Participants will experience:

- Professional empathy skills workshop
- Experimental cooking with staff & kids
- Sharing a meal & conversations
- Human centred debrief session

If you are willing to get your hands dirty and enter the kitchen with the team from Stepping Stone House, we'd love to share the experience with you.
